

Gaylord National Resort & Convention Center Signature Restaurants, Eateries & Lounges

- ❖ Old Hickory Steakhouse: Recreating the ambiance of an 18th century Georgian row house, the refined and comfortable surroundings of Old Hickory are accentuated by classic design. The setting includes an intimate lounge, wine-cellar room showcasing a collection of award winning wines featuring grapes from around the world, and a unique artisanal cheese cave. It all comes together to create Gaylord National's most sophisticated dining experience boasting a serious menu steeped in the traditions of the finest steakhouses. Guests can also create their own cheese course by selecting from an outstanding collection of handcrafted artisanal cheeses that have been painstakingly aged in our very own cheese cave. This unique experience is presided over by our Maitre d'Fromage, a passionate full-time professional who purchases and ages some of the most flavorful artisanal cheeses from around the world. The tableside presentation of these international cheeses is just as enlightening as it is enjoyable. Accompanied by dessert wines and vintage port, the artisanal cheese course can be the beginning or the grand finale of a memorable evening. One word sums up the entire experience: perfection. (220 seats, open daily for dinner)

- ❖ Moon Bay Coastal Cuisine: Take a stroll through Gaylord National's 18-story atrium and you'll discover an indoor waterfront setting complete with classic, mid-Atlantic-inspired architecture. Here, you will discover Moon Bay, a refreshingly modern dining experience that recreates the ambiance of the Chesapeake region's early fish markets. Moon Bay boasts a show kitchen, an impressive white-wine collection and an exciting wharf-side bar and lounge. It all sets the stage for an unforgettable culinary experience that features seafood from American waters with a modern twist, including fish flown in daily and sushi-sashimi creations. (264 seats, open daily for lunch and dinner)

- ❖ Pienza Italian Market: Pienza brings together the spirit, excitement, and hospitality that celebrate the essence of Italy; from the produce markets of Tuscany, to the romantic shorelines of Portofino, to the irresistible zest of the Piedmont and Veneto regions. This Mediterranean journey begins with a touch of "tableside" herb clippings and an offer of Bellini, created with sparkling wine and white peach nectar. The Italian-regional flavors are embodied throughout the dining experience at Pienza. Six market-inspired stations reflect seasonal changes, the passion demonstrated by our culinary team and the "abbondanza" (generosity) of the Italian culture. They include an artisanal bread and antipasto station, a fresh produce market station, a rotisserie and carvery station, a pasta and risotto station and a traditional dolceria/sweet shop. All this reverence to food is matched by a cocktail and wine selection that pairs exquisitely with the daily menu. (332 seats, open daily for breakfast, lunch and dinner)

- ❖ National Pastime – The Official Sports Bar & Grille of the Washington Nationals:
The sporting aficionado will delight in this unique venue that celebrates all sports, including the Washington region’s hometown baseball team. Featuring an artful blend of urban design and sports memorabilia that evoke the character and charm of the past within a contemporary and cutting-edge environment, this sports lover’s paradise is unlike any sport’s bar ever created. It offers a signature 30-foot wide, high-definition video wall, as well as dozens of flat-screen TVs strategically placed throughout, ensuring that sport’s fans won’t miss a moment of the action. Two bars and various lounges offer curved banquets, custom sofas and individual lounge chairs to accompany guests as they drink and dine while watching their favorite sporting events. Near the front entrance is a life-size solid wood statue of the legendary Babe Ruth – a Maryland-native – who is posed as if he’s watching a homerun leave Yankee Stadium. The statue is such a carbon-copy of the baseball great, you might expect it to come to life and round the bases. Around the corner, guests can practice their best swing over an actual homeplate used during the Washington National’s 2007 season at nearby RFK Stadium. Inside, a VIP room offers ultimate privacy, as well as tall wing-back chairs and sofas to accommodate groups centered around their own large-screen TV. (345 seats, open daily for lunch and dinner)

- ❖ Pose Ultra Lounge: Guests will be electrified at this cutting-edge, two-story lounge that offers dramatic vistas of the nation’s capital viewed through 18-foot, floor-to-ceiling windows. The dance floor is adjacent to a wraparound outdoor terrace and surrounded by high-tech draperies that display color-changing fiber optics. The club lobby is awash in projected colors and multi-media images that continuously paint the room in a changing array of moods. A VIP lounge, perfectly poised on the club’s second floor/mezzanine level, overlooks the dance floor below, and accommodates guests in extravagantly-upholstered reserved seating. Three dance pods made of glass jut out from the mezzanine above and showcase fabulous dancers. A “small bites” menu featuring plates of perfect culinary dimensions in smaller portions will tempt tastebuds and encourage sharing in this dynamic social setting. Groups can enjoy their very own VIP treatment here too by having the entire club or just the second-floor area all to themselves. Full or partial buyouts of the lounge are available for private group events. (Capacity: 500 Guests)

- ❖ Belvedere Lounge: Located just off the main lobby, this garden-inspired and centrally located social setting is the perfect place to meet up with friends and colleagues. Rising above the “town center” of our 18-story atrium, this sophisticated lounge is surrounded by a perpetual spring of blooming forsythia and azaleas, and offers a bird’s eye view of the Potomac River. The offerings here include a selection of champagnes by the glass, retro cocktails, nightly live music and impressive sunset views. A portable martini cart offers a customized experience of delightful concoctions and exotic garnishes for our guests. (open nightly)

- ❖ Java Coast: Serving the best of coffee and espresso selections, Java Coast is our signature café that also boasts freshly baked pastries, great sandwiches, gourmet salads, delectable desserts, beer, wine and other gastronomical delights. It’s the perfect place to relax with friends and colleagues, or simply grab a quick bite to eat on the run. (70 seats, open daily)
